Subject: Compassionate Appeal for Employment Following the Passing of My Late Mother, a Newly Recruited Officer

Dear Sir,

With deep respect and a humble heart, I write to appeal for your compassionate consideration regarding an employment opportunity within the Federal Fire Service.

My beloved mother, [Insert Full Name of Your Late Mother], was recently recruited into the Federal Fire Service. Sadly, before she could resume her duties and begin the journey of serving her country, she passed away unexpectedly. Her untimely death has left our family devastated. As her first son, I am now faced with the overwhelming responsibility of caring for my younger siblings. With both parents gone, I am all they have left.

In light of this painful reality, I am pleading for an opportunity to be considered for the position that was assigned to my late mother. This job would not only provide the much-needed stability for my family, but also offer me a chance to honor her memory by serving in the same institution she was committed to joining.

I am a Senior Secondary Certificate Examination (SSCE) holder, with over ten years of practical experience in art and design challenge work. This has equipped me with a strong sense of creativity, discipline, and problem-solving ability. Additionally, I am currently a 300-level undergraduate student of Prince Abubakar Audu University, Anyigba, striving to balance my academic journey with the responsibilities of leading my family through this difficult time.

If given the opportunity, I am ready and willing to dedicate myself wholeheartedly to the Federal Fire Service, to uphold its values, and to serve with honor, diligence, and integrity.

I sincerely appeal to your office to grant me this opportunity. It would not only bring relief to my grieving family, but also restore hope in a future that now feels uncertain.

Thank you for your time, your compassion, and your consideration.

Yours faithfully,

AMEH EZEKIEL UNEKWUOJO
